

METADATA

Title: An anthology of Roman Elegy

Other Titles: Selected poems from Catullus to Ovid

Language: Greek

ISBN: 978-960-603-028-4

Subject: HUMANITIES AND ARTS

Keywords: Roman Elegy / Catullus / Propertius / Tibullus / Ovid

Bibliographic Reference: Antoniadis, T. (2015). An anthology of Roman Elegy [Undergraduate textbook]. Kallipos, Open Academic Editions. <http://dx.doi.org/10.57713/kallipos-564>

Abstract

The book begins with an introduction to Latin love elegy that traces its origins in ancient Greek and Hellenistic poetry as well as in the Roman Neoteric poets and particularly Catullus. Its main body contains a translation and a commentary on selected elegies from Propertius, Tibullus, and Ovid. All poems are supplemented by a basic vocabulary attached to each line through hyperlinks. At the end of the book, there is an addendum with grammar exercises.

